

NAVARRO COUNTY, CORSICANA WOMEN PLAN TO PARTICIPATE IN VICTORY FAIR THIS YEAR

By MRS. LYNNE WORTHAM
Sun Society Editor

Corsicana and Navarro County women have played an important role in the Navarro County Fair and Agricultural Exposition each year for the past eight seasons and from all indications their contributions to the ninth annual show will be of the same high calibre. Plans are now under way to make the women's departments of the fair more outstanding in every particular, and with the continued co-operation of city and county women September 18-22nd will be red letter days in the history of women's achievements in the fields of homemaking and fine arts.

Ladies' Department

Mrs. Frank Young, general chairman, and Mesdames F. H. Lynd and F. E. McPherson, co-chairmen of the Ladies' Department, and in charge of community exhibits, are contacting the various organizations of city and county, and inviting them to arrange attractive community exhibits. Two communities, two organizations or one community and one organization may combine forces and prepare an exhibit. Mrs. Young has announced that the exhibit will be judged by impartial judges and the decision will be based on point and competitive basis. Appearance of exhibit, quality and variety will be considered by the judges.

Things listed under general agriculture exhibit and individual entries such as threshed grains, and seed, wheat grain, baled hay, textiles, and articles made of feed sacks, canned products, etc., may be included in the Community Exhibit.

The first prize will be $75, the second $50, the third $35, the fourth $25 and fifth and over will be $15.

Individual Entries

Mrs. Ralph Stell, chairman, and Mrs. Lewis David, co-chairman, report a splendid response on individual entries. Those who plan to participate in this feature of the fair are urged to contact Mrs. Stell or Mrs. David at once.

All exhibits must be in place by 12:00 p.m. September 18th. Mrs. Stell has announced. No exhibit may be removed before 7:30 o'clock p.m. Saturday, September 22nd. All entries must be listed with the person in charge, and correct mailing address given otherwise the premium check may be delayed. Judging in this department will begin at 10:00 a.m. on September 18th.

Judges will be out-of-county persons approved by the Extension Service.

All canned products must be in standard jars and tops.

ROUTINE MATTERS CONSIDERED MONDAY BY COMMISSIONERS

Routine matters were discussed at the regular session of the Navarro county commissioners court Monday morning. Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket. Claims for Drew Gillen, Precinct 4 commissioner, were not presented after E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor, said there was not sufficient budget or money credited to that precinct to pay the bills submitted.

The monthly reports of Vern Sneed, county home demonstration agent; Jo Ann Milligan, assistant county home demonstration agent; Searcy P. Walton and Ezelle McClelland, negro agent and negro home demonstration agent, respectively, and the Corsicana Navarro County Health Department were received and ordered filed.

Insurance Premium Out

The court declined to authorize the payment of a premium amounting to $146, on the safe in the office of Halley Blake, assessor and collector of taxes, and for protection against hold-ups en route from the courthouse to the bank. It was brought out in the discussion that the officer and her bondsmen were responsible and that it was unnecessary for the county to carry the additional protection. The insurance had been carried the past several years, the county auditor reported.

The court also declined to authorize the sending out of notices by the assessor and collector of taxes to taxpayers of current accounts at a cost in postage of between $300 and $400. The commissioners pointed out in the discussions that the taxpayers would avail themselves of the discounts for paying taxes early. A three-percent discount is allowed on current taxes paid in October, two-percent in November and one-percent in December.

Re-Invest School Money

L. L. Powell, county judge and County Auditor Cunningham were authorized to re-invest $7,000 of the permanent school fund in U. S. government bonds. The permanent school fund consists of $83,000, originally obtained from the sale of school lands allotted to Navarro county. The principal must be invested in suitable bonds, and the interest goes into the school funds, but the principal cannot be touched, the county auditor revealed.

Judge Powell was given permission by the court to attend the West Texas County Judges and County Commissioners association convention in Abilene Thursday Friday and Saturday.

equal representation. But the senate resolution and House Democrats want the usual party lineup in this case three Democrats and two Republicans from each chamber.

This was the situation on other matters.

Expected navy—Congress heard today that the Navy wants a post-war fleet of 1,079 fighting ships—just 228 less than it has now. The chairman of the senate and house naval committees, Senator Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) and Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) plan to introduce resolutions to permit this.

Surplus Property—High on the house calendar is a bill to replace the three-man surplus property disposal board with a single administrator.

Airport Development

Airports—Although the senate has no "must" bill ready for action, it is expected to consider a measure designed to spur civilian airport development. The bill, following in general presidential thinking along that line, would authorize the government to spend $500,000 over the next five years to build 3,000 new flying fields and repair about 1,500 others. States, cities and counties would have to put up the same amount of money as the government.

Wages and Hours—Senator Alben Barkley will pin-point his Democratic colleague, Senator Pepper (Fla.) in opening hearings on a proposal to hike the minimum wage standard from 40 to 65 cents an hour. Pepper, who introduced the bill, would be back from a European inspection trip for three more weeks.

Appointments—Capitol Hill confidently expects Mr. Truman to appoint Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson to the supreme court vacancy left when Justice Owen J. Roberts resigned. Both Patterson and Roberts are Republicans.

tions war crimes commission. From authentic evidence it was established that the prisoners were eaten and some cases, the report said, human flesh was served as mess kits or over camp fires. The report contained confessions from Japanese soldiers who admitted they cut up and ate allied prisoners.

The document also told how two Americans were given the Japanese "back bend." Their hands were tied behind their backs and their ankles with their feet being bent back.

In other parts of Japan, China, Manchuria and Korea, American authorities continued to evacuate American prisoners from Japanese camps and rush them to medical centers.

At half a dozen Far East ports, Americans were being placed aboard homeward-bound ships.

More than 500 prisoners in northern Kyushu have been liberated themselves and are roaming the southernmost Japanese islands awaiting the arrival of occupation troops.

Eighth army headquarters announced 9,306 liberated prisoners of war and civilian internees had been cleared through its channels, and the army air transport command said its planes had flown out 6,754 prisoners from all parts of the Japanese empire, including 263 Americans.

Cleared From Formosa

With the exception of 100 men who are too ill to be moved, all prisoners have been cleared from Formosa. Chungking headquarters of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China, also said there are still about 1,400 prisoners in a Japanese camp at Mukden, in Manchuria.

U. S. navy rescue teams gathered up 908 internees, veterans of Bataan, Corregidor, Bong Son and Singapore, from three war camps in the Nagoya area.

Two crewmen from Lt. Cmdr. John Bulkeley's famous P.T. 41, which carried General MacArthur from Corregidor, were also liberated from a camp in Japan.

time, Henrik Bergh was present to hear the verdict. Bergh was ill at his home. Judge Solem said Schoedt was unable to attend.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(A)—The Oslo radio announced today that Vidkun Quisling had been convicted of charges of high treason and condemned to death.

The pronouncing of the sentence by the court today was for cooperation with the Germans during the occupation of Norway was broadcast direct from the court-room.

Under the new law legalizing the death penalty in Norway, the sentence will be executed by a military firing squad composed of 10 soldiers firing 10 bullets.

Under the law Quisling can appeal to the supreme court which can reverse the sentence but cannot reverse it.

The presiding judge at Quisling's trial, however, was Erik Solem who also is a supreme court justice and thus one of the group which would pass on any appeal.

Unless Quisling is held for purposes of giving evidence in other war crimes cases, it is likely the execution will be carried out within three weeks.

Quisling, 65, was major in Norway's pre-war army and a former defense minister. The prosecution during the three weeks trial accused him of meeting Hitler, Grand Admiral Raeder and other high German officials in December, 1940, and urging them to invade Norway.

He was charged with turning over Norwegian defense data to the Germans, and on the day of the invasion, April 9, 1940, it was charged he went to the government buildings and personally telephoned German garrisons and gave instructions not to resist the nazis. It was through his agency that German troops were introduced into Norway's harbors in the hold-up of allied ships, the prosecution asserted.

Throughout, Quisling contended he cooperated with the Germans to avoid a worse fate for his country.

on freedom of speech. It was contained in a directive issued to the Japanese Government. As a result overseas broadcasts from Tokyo radio stations were reported by American public relations officers to be almost nil.

Koreans demonstrated in Seoul (Kyojo) and termed it "a slap in the face" when Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, whose 24th Army Corps landed at Jinan Saturday, proclaimed that Japanese administrative officials would continue in office. They had expected quick freedom from the Nipponese.

Hodge, after accepting surrender of Southern Korea (the Russians control the northern half), quickly explained that the Japanese government would be restored and his staff would remain in office only to carry out American orders and would be allowed no independent action.

Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher and his North Pacific naval forces accepted Japan's surrender of all Northern Honshu and the northernmost home island of Hokkaido at minato naval base Sunday. Japanese were ordered to disarm and to continue their civil administration. Patrol boats and carrier planes circled alertly, marking the arrival of occupation troops.

Issues Two Statements

MacArthur simultaneously issued two statements from his new headquarters in the U. S. Navy Tokyo. One pledged that Japanese militarism would be eliminated. The other assured his troops they would go home as peace could be made secure.

In his first statement he explained that the Japanese would rule themselves, subject to his orders and with occupation troops ready to enforce his decisions if necessary.

He warned his own troops to respect the rights of Japanese: "Looking, village, rape, would be but a stain on your own high honor."

To the Japanese, he announced that freedom of speech, press, religion and assembly would be encouraged, and limited only by the demands of military security.

MacArthur proclaimed today that any act to disturb the peace in Korea or any hostility against occupation troops, would be punishable by death or such other penalty as the occupation corps determines.

Troops Sent Home

Occupation troops will be sent home, MacArthur said, "as speedily and as effectively as the consolidation and securing of peace can be accomplished through orderly occupation of Japan and the demobilization of Japanese armed forces."

The date will depend to a great extent upon the troops carry out their occupation duties, he added, reminding them that "we fought and won a war to protect the rights of the individual—for all peoples of the world."

In addition to Ominato, 400 miles north of Tokyo, two other

Japanese Naval Bases

Japanese naval bases were taken over by American forces Sunday. Katsura, southeast of Tokyo, and Katsunawa, south of Tokyo.

Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger said part of his Eighth Army would continue to spread northward from Tokyo.

MacArthur's headquarters reported the Japanese government would be called upon to hand over the criminals meanwhile reported. There was no indication of urgency, since it was felt they would be unable to escape from Japan.

A former highly-placed Japanese politician meanwhile reported that Hidoki Tojo—premier and No. 1 on the list of Japanese war criminals—was alive and preparing his defense before planning suicide.

The Eighth Army announced that army agents were preparing to net for "a few" Americans in Japan suspected of aiding the enemy.

Eichelberger reported that 11,322 war prisoners have thus far been released and evacuated—or more than one-third of all those held in Japan. More than 6,000 of the prisoners have been sent home.

Disarming of Japanese military forces, scheduled to be finished by mid-October, is proceeding very well, he said. The Nippon Times reported approximately 686,000 Japanese army troops in the home islands already have been demobilized. The paper estimated it would require three years for total demobilization of the more than 3,000,000 Japanese troops overseas.

of Schools W. H. Norwood said.

Increase shown in scholastics came as somewhat of a surprise. "We really hadn't expected so many because a great number of children of school age are working at high salaries and do not plan to return to school," Norwood pointed out.

Of the total enrollment figures of 2,406, 2,098 are whites and 388 are negroes. School attendance during the war years reached an all-time low in 1942-43, when only 1,947 students attended the Corsicana public schools.

First general meeting of the faculty was held Saturday at the high school. Discussing problems of the new school year, Superintendent Norwood admonished the group: "If we are to prepare the children for the post-war world, we should prepare them for a higher standard of living and this is brought about by the development of moral character, better health and a higher level of intelligence."

Teachers introduced.

Wayne E. Alden, president of the Corsicana Teachers Association, discussed the state organization and the purpose of the local unit, pointing out accomplishments that have been made in improving the school program in recent years. New teachers in the system were introduced, and announcements were made concerning schedules and class assignments.

WINTER CROPS TO BE DISCUSSED AT SERIES OF MEETINGS

The fourth annual series of meetings of the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District for the discussion of winter crops and phosphates are announced by W. C. Pearce, Corsicana, member of the board of supervisors.

The first meeting will be held at Kerens High School, Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 8:30 p. m., and the second meeting will be held at the county courthouse in Corsicana on Thursday, Sept. 13, at 8:30 p. m.

These meetings are supported by all the agricultural agencies and vocational agricultural teachers of the district. H. Robinson, county agent; C. O. Ferguson, soil conservation service; and E. D. Dillard, AAA, will appear on the programs.

The amount of winter cover crops planted and phosphate applied on farms co-operating with the Navarro-Hill district increased 120 per cent in 1944 over the previous year. A similar phenomenal increase is expected for the fall of 1945.

Ferguson is of the opinion that the planting of legumes with an application of phosphate is the most important single conservation practice of the whole district program.

The amount of approximately 20,000 pounds of hairy vetch seed by local co-operators will be a great help in applying seed stock, he said.

Seed, manure, seedling dates, and dates, amounts of phosphate per acre, seed and fertilizer sources and results of local growers will be discussed at these meetings. A feature of the program will be the showing of color slides made in this work area this year of local farmers and their cover crops.

Reports from farmers of crop yields following legumes and phosphate are sensational. A. P. Mays, Corsicana, baled 200 bushels of sorghum for seed, and following a green manure crop of Austrian winter peas, Burke Bros., Corsicana, tell of doubling the tonnage of ensilage on 100 acres of land.

Corsicana reports a quadruple increase of sorghum hay after vetch and phosphate. C. C. McClung, Angus, reports increased yields of sorghum and vetch with vetch and other cultural practices. L. B. Wheeler, Tulepe, has perhaps unwittingly sold at least one neighbor on the planting of vetch ahead of cotton.

Lewie Davis, Pickett, expects to increase his 1944 acreage of 200 acres in winter cover crops. David, in addition to securing the use of soil and water conservation, and increased yields of following crops, has sold several hundred dollars worth of legume seeds, notably vetch, hulan and four clover.

Up 800 Per Cent. J. A. Daniels, Kerens, has told of tripling the yield of Johnson grass hay following vetch. John Black, Kerens, has reported increases in crop yields following vetch up to 800 per cent, and similar boosts of cotton up to 400 per cent. W. M. Stough, Corsicana, grew a wheat crop in years by using four clover, vetch and phosphate.

Several district farmers are further utilizing winter cover crops for pasture, hay and the restoration of fertility to eroded land prior to sodding or seeding of permanent grasses.

E. W. Robinson, Corsicana, added up the growth of hairy vetch (green weight) per acre from 2 to 1.2 tons to 9 to 14 tons by the application of 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre. Robert A. Kelt, Chatfield, had a similar increase in growth. J. J. Kelt of Chatfield doubled the growth of common lespedeza by the application of phosphate.

Other meetings will be scheduled throughout the Corsicana area of the district at later dates to be announced.

Information From Navarro County Rationing Board

Navarro county's war price and rationing board is developing a rationing list covering all phases of building material activity, according to W. A. Wright, chairman. The volume of detailed work covering building activity is expected to increase tremendously in the near future.

Asked to send their names and mailing addresses to the rationing board are the following: General building contractors and carpenters; contracting and individual plumbers; contracting and individual painters and paper hangers; contracting and individual roofers; contracting and individual electricians; masons and masonry contractors; and sand and gravel contractors.

New community pricing orders will be issued on dry grocery staples by September 15, 1945, according to W. A. Wright, chairman of the Navarro County War Price and Rationing Board.

The distribution of community pricing posters will be made to all retail stores.

The wholesale-supplemental price list is being sent to each retailer for use in checking wholesale cost, and each wholesaler will receive a copy of the supplemental wholesale community prices.

Some items will not appear on the wholesale-supplemental list because there were small stocks of these items in the area at the time cost data was obtained, and at that time the 1945 pack of canned goods had not come into market.

Within the next 60 days the new 1945 pack of fresh fruits and vegetables will be available and supplemental community pricing list will be issued.

Addressed immense crowd The day's climactic event when Wainwright addressed an immense crowd in the hall near the Washington Monument.

"No humane person could desire the death of Japanese," he declared. "The Japs should be forced to work hard, but before they did—were made in an official statement by the Australian government. Times and places were mentioned in his report, and many others given by the 13,321 Allied prisoners already freed from Japan, was to be submitted to the United Nations war crimes commission."

Of those rescued from Honshu camps, 6,006 already are on their way to America. Eight army headquarters reported. More than 50 others, self-liberated, are roaming northern Honshu, 1,159 freed from Formosa arrived in Manila.

The swiftly, quietly expanding occupation of the Empire sent Lt. Col. J. B. Dodge, 13th Army Corps into Southern Korea, landing at Jinsen Sunday and winning earth-shaking cheers as the U. S. Seventh division raised the American flag over Seoul (Kaijo).

Chen turned quickly to Jeon when Dodge's headquarters said Japanese officials would be left in office to carry out American orders.

Japanese continued their own civil government in northern Honshu and Hokkaido, into which Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher sent an occupying naval task force Sunday. "We are sure that this policy would be universal: the Japanese will rule themselves, subject to Allied will."

MacArthur also emphasized that Japan, although they must obey his orders, they must be given "unwarranted interference" with their liberty and property rights. He said occupation troops will be returned to America as soon as the Japs are ready to depend upon how effectively they accomplish their occupation mission, "the consolidation and securing of peace."

FORMER NAVARRO COUNTY SOLDIER BLUFFS WAY FREEDOM

Pfc. Wilbur W. McEntire, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. McEntire of Orth, Young county, Texas, and Pvt. Albert Dowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dowers, Perryton, Texas, are the subjects of an article appearing in Monday's Dallas News, written by Wick Fowler, war correspondent. McEntire was born and reared at Dumas, Navarro county, was captured at Batuan. He had the unpleasant task of riding during the famous March of Death while his countrymen were forced to drag along under the lashes of the Japs, according to Fowler's account, driving a staff car, powerless to aid his wounded and sick comrades. He escaped once but was soon recaptured. These two Texans were among a group of 61 American prisoners who marched out of Japanese prison camp at Tsuriga, about 450 miles from Tokyo, bluffed their way aboard a train loaded with Nippon soldiers and reached safety in Tokyo.

Be Kind To Your Doctor!

By W. P. BROWN of Johnson's Pharmacy

Today there is hardly a doctor in the land who does not have more patients than ever to take care of; who is not overworked; who does not think of himself last, if at all.

You can help ease your doctor's burden in many ways. One is by going to his office if it is at all possible, instead of asking him to come to you. Another is by consulting him promptly concerning what may seem to be minor ailments, enabling him to prevent their turning into serious illnesses.

Do your part, and your doctor will do his.

A competent, conscientious druggist will provide only the finest ingredients and workmanship combined in the prescriptions your doctor writes.

KERENS SAILOR AND OTHERS VICTORIOUS OVER JAP SUICIDERS

Maurice Page, 20, steward's mate, first class, USNR, of Kerens, route 2, was a member of the crew of the USS John C. Butler, a destroyer escort, when it scored a 13-minute victory over five Jap suicide planes last spring near Okinawa. The brief action, details of which have just been released, began when his ship's lookout reported: "Air craft at three-five-zero. They look like Japs!" Immediately the Butler's guns started off two of the ten attackers before they could start their dives.

A third plane, ragged with flames, swooped close to the ship, clipping the antennae, and crashed nearby. Another was blown apart while trying to bank. Another was blown to bits in a dive toward the ship's mast.

BETTER CHECK UP ON YOUR DRIVER'S LICENSE AT ONCE

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(Spl.)—Better check up on your drivers license. Under the impetus of mounting traffic jams, the Department of Public Safety is about to begin a vigorous enforcement campaign against unlicensed drivers. Director Homer Garrison said today.

"This isn't a red tape or revenue proposition," Garrison said. "We are trying to keep people from being maimed and killed."

Estimating that Texas now has 250,000 drivers who either have no licenses or whose license have expired, Garrison said:

"The deliberately evasive person is likely to be dangerous, either because of known incompetence or, in the case of many new residents and new drivers, ignorance of Texas safety rules."

"Of those who have expired licenses, probably a considerable number have developed defects of attitudes, or records of traffic violation and accident, that give them cause to fear examination."

"Of course most delinquents are merely lazy or negligent."

But whatever the reason, the impressive facts remain that 15 per cent of drivers cause 85 per cent of collisions, and unlicensed drivers figure in more than a proportionate share of them. As traffic volume and fatalities continue to increase, this citizen's obligation to comply with regulatory measures likewise increases. We are headed for a toll of ten lives lost daily to traffic in Texas, and it will require drastic action to hold the figure that low when post-war traffic gets into full swing."
